

Cabinet Crisis Imminent In Berlin

PREMIERS MEET TO DISCUSS PLAN TO COLLECT DEBT

Conferences Are Held In England By Lloyd George and Briand.

General Plan Is Agreed Upon But Details Will Be Worked Out.

Lympe, England, April 23.—Exchanges which have been going on for some weeks between the British and French foreign offices relative to what can and ought to be done to collect reparations from Germany will be continued here late today by Prime Minister Lloyd George and Premier Briand. The two statesmen will meet at the Villa of Sir Philip Sassoon, where they have held conference in the past. The French plan is broadly a project for administration and taxing for the benefit of the allies, the Ruhr coal basin and some parts of the Westphalian industrial district of Germany.

Mr. Lloyd George arrived at Sir Philip's villa, Belcaire, last night and arrived from Paris today stated that M. Briand, accompanied by Philippe J. L. Berthelot, general secretary of the French foreign office, had left at 8:40 o'clock this morning for England.

The two premiers were understood today to be in agreement as to the general plan to be followed, but it was said they wished to have a complete mutual understanding of what was to be done early in May, if in the interval the German government does not submit acceptable proposals. A fresh German proposal is expected to be submitted to the allies immediately, but even its serious discussion would seem to be conditioned upon satisfactory guarantees of execution. Guarantee of a material sort would not be submitted at the time of the London conference early in March but the situation is regarded by the French government as having been greatly changed in Germany.

Information gathered here this morning indicated that Germany's latest offer to assist in the reconstruction of devastated areas in France and Belgium would be probably to exert any influence on the deliberations of the French and British premiers. It was pointed out that Germany made a similar suggestion at the conference early in March and that it was not seriously considered. On that occasion France replied she had already spent upwards of 1,000,000,000 pounds on reconstruction and looked for Germany to reimburse her.

Under these circumstances it appears that the present German government is in a weak position, information to this effect being received by allied commissions in Berlin.

A certain amount of indulgence had been felt toward the German cabinet because of the knowledge that it did not possess the united support of the country, which is divided among the imperialists, the two Socialist parties, the Communists and the Liberals, with the Pan German sects and the Stinnes group exercising a powerful influence.

It is slight probability, according to official advice reaching the allied governments that these German political groups will be able to agree upon combined policy.

French government authorities are understood to raise the question whether the undertakings entered upon by the present German cabinet would be likely to be carried out by one subsequently established.

AWAIT GERMAN OFFER BEFORE TAKING ACTION

London, April 23.—British government authorities awaited with keen interest today the announcement at Berlin of Germany's policy relative to reparations. Dr. Walter Simons, German foreign minister, was expected to voice the "last word" of his government on this subject, which is considered as the most vital question before the cabinet at the present moment and there was evident in this city an inclination to see what Germany would offer before reaching a decision as to what future steps the allies would take in enforcing their demands upon the Berlin cabinet.

Germany's appeal to the United States to act as arbitrator of the reparations problems and the American rejection of that role brought into the situation certain complexities, which seemed to place the British and French premier's questions of considerable delicacy. The view that the answer of the Washington government had intimidated in bringing about new negotiations gained ground here yesterday and added considerably to the pre-occupation felt in official circles over the reparations settlement.

It appeared certain that Mr. Lloyd George and M. Briand would be called upon at their meeting at Lympe tomorrow either to reject the good offices of the United States or reopen negotiations but today seemed to be a feeling that the announcement of Germany's policies might clear the way for the premiers to reach a decision without rejecting any offers that might come from the American capital.

On the eve of the Lympe conference, Germany has signified her willingness to place immediately at the disposal of the allies all assistance for the reconstruction of the devastated areas

REAL MOONSHINE STILL IS FOUND

Liquor Plant Located in Remote Ravine Well Concealed But Officers Find It and Arrest Owners.

Sheriff E. A. Bryan and Deputies Charles Mercer and William Sautechide, the father of William Wince in McKean township yesterday noon, arrested Tom Cere and Andrew Roman on a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor. No liquor or trace of it was found at the house but the sheriff had a hunch and took the men out over the farm where they finally found a large still hidden in a ravine on the farm. Eight gallons of corn mash, a barrel of shelled corn and four gallons of corn whiskey were confiscated here and the men brought into municipal court where their trial will be held this afternoon.

HAD CONSIDERABLE KICK AFTER ALL

Leavenworth, Kansas, April 23.—While defending Richard Coopersmith in court on a charge of manufacturing home brew, B. F. Enders picked up a bottle as he questioned a witness.

"Would you call this?" began the attorney.

He was interrupted by a loud report and flying glass from the bottle cut an artery in his wrist and broke a lens of his glasses. The defense has entered the trial with the contention that the beverage did not contain enough "kick" to come within the state "bone dry" law.

CAR ROBBERS SHOT BY RAIL DETECTIVES

Sandusky, April 23.—Railroad detectives shot and killed an unknown man in the New York Central yards here early today, when they found the man and two companions robbing a car. The man killed had engaged in a gun battle with the detectives.

Another man, a foreigner, was found in a box car with a bullet in his neck some time later at Bay Bridge seven miles west of here. The slain robber sent a bullet through the skirt of the overcoat of Detective Sergeant G. A. Rice of Toledo, who led the raid, before he was brought down.

The man later was identified as Herman Sengstock aged 27 of this city.

BEER PRESCRIPTIONS LIMITED BY RULING

Washington, April 23.—An arbitrary limit of 4.3 gallons of beer and three gallons of wine as the maximum a physician may prescribe at any one time has been set aside in new prohibition regulations which await the approval of David H. Blair the new commissioner of internal revenue.

Jersey City—Harry Hiemiller, of the Jersey City International League, pitched a no run game against Buffalo.

CAPTAIN ALLEGES MURDER CHARGE IS "PERSECUTION"

That Capt. Robert Rosenbluth, U. S. A., is the victim of persecution is the contention of his counsel. The captain is held on $25,000 bail on the charge of killing Major Alexander Cronkhite. The major was shot to death. The case was at first reported as an accident, which occurred while the major was cleaning his pistol. Later Sergt. Roland P. Pothier was arrested and is said to have confessed to shooting the major, but charged that the captain was implicated.

RAIDED AND FINED WITHIN ONE HOUR

Wehrle Avenue Resident Gets Quick Action When Officers Find Corn Liquor and Still.

The house of Joe Bosman, 403 Wehrle avenue, was raided this morning at 10:30 by the "purity" squad. Officers Hurlbaugh, Donnelly and Stewart who found a still in full operation. In addition a small quantity of corn mash and 10 gallons of corn whiskey were found.

Bosman was immediately taken to municipal court where he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $300 and costs by Judge Patton. The raid and the immediate prosecution establishes a record in the city for quick work of the police department, who secured two convictions in municipal court today on liquor violation cases.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT SENDS REPLY TO HUGHES' NOTE OF REFUSAL

Contents Are Not Made Public and Nature of Communication Is Not Known—State Department Is Ready to Act Promptly.

Berlin, April 23.—A cabinet crisis appears imminent here as a result of the discontent aroused by the governments failure to consult the Reichstag before asking President Harding of the United States to mediate between Germany and the allies relative to reparations. The position of Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister, is particularly imperilled.

BERLIN POLITICIANS ANGRY.

London, April 23.—Germany has sent to Washington a reply to the American note rejecting the role of arbitrator of the reparations question between Germany and the allies, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin. The terms of the note sent to President Harding were not divulged to party leaders up to the time it was dispatched at noon today and its contents will not be made known until later in the day. Leading politicians are declared to have been angered because members of the cabinet did not consult them before the original communication was sent to the American capital.

CABINET HOLDS SECRET SESSION.

Paris, April 23.—Consideration of the German government's note to the United States was completed at a meeting of the German cabinet last night, says a message received here from Berlin. Party leader later met with Konstantin Fehrenbach, the chancellor, to hear a report from Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister and to express their opinion on the proposals sent to President Harding. The meeting was secret.

GERMANY OFFERS TO BAN GOLD EXPORTATION

Paris, April 23.—Germany, instead of either agreeing or refusing to transfer the gold reserve of the Reichsbank to occupied territory in the Rhineland, as the allied reparations commission had demanded, has offered to agree not to export or permit the exportation of gold from Germany before October 1 next.

Germany's note in reply to the reparations commission, delivered to the commission today, which this offer is tendered, says her proffered agreement would adequately protect the allies, who had demanded the transfer because the second paragraph of Article 248 of the treaty of Versailles, prohibiting the exportation of gold, becomes inoperative May 1.

MRS. VARNER GRANTED DECREE OF DIVORCE

Inez Varner was granted a decree of divorce from Cloyd Varner in probate court this morning by Judge Harvey Alexander. Divorce proceedings were brought last year on the grounds of gross neglect and failure to support. Mrs. Varner was granted the decree on these grounds, the suit being uncontested by Mr. Varner.

Two weeks ago in common pleas court Varner was awarded a $10,000 verdict against Mr. and Mrs. John Ashcraft, the parents of Mrs. Varner, for alienation of the affections of his wife. The court refused a motion for a new trial and the case was settled by agreement out of court.

LECTURE NO. 66.

The Ford Transmission.

As there are in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 Ford cars in service, and as circumstances may arise, because of which many of our readers may at some time own a Ford, in addition to their present car, or alone, it is well worth while to study the special transmission used on it.

The transmission of the Ford car is known as Planetary Transmission, because the various sets of gears are always maintained in the same plane, they never being shifted as are those used on most cars.

On the Ford, the clutch and transmission are built together, and it might also be said that the foot or service brake is built into the transmission, the pin C and so there will be a resulting reverse leverage. Were the crank circle six inches, only six-tenths (6.19) of the pressure of the crank would be exerted on the pin C. Thus the resulting leverage would be but (6.10) six-tenths of five, or 3 to 1.

You will note that no gears are shifted, the connecting of the engine to the rear wheels being accomplished by the tightening of the band on the drum, as to hold it from revolving, while the disconnecting is accomplished by the freeing of this band.

If the gears D and G were ten inches in diameter, and the gear E six inches, while F was four inches, then the leverage of the pin C would be 5 to 1, but this will not be the engine leverage. The diameter of the circle through which the crank revolves will be less than the diameter of the circle of the pin C and so there will be a resulting reverse leverage. Were the crank circle six inches, only six-tenths (6.19) of the pressure of the crank would be exerted on the pin C. Thus the resulting leverage would be but (6.10) six-tenths of five, or 3 to 1.

When the gears, that is, all four, are of the same size, there will be no car speed, while if F is made larger than E, thus crossing the neutral point, the car will reverse. How this principle is used for reversing will be shown next.

Think for yourself. Don't collect your thoughts from other people.

brake, clutch and transmission gears being in one unit.

The purpose of the planetary transmission is exactly the same as that of other transmissions, namely, to give the engine a leverage, and different speed ratios, and to give a means for driving the car backward.

Let us see how the Planetary Transmission accomplishes its purpose.

Suppose we wanted to move a safe which would require a pressure of 500 pounds at the point E, Fig. 1. If there were an obstruction, or fulcrum, on the ground as A, we could take a crowbar and, by using it as shown, move the safe with but 100-pound pressure on its end, C. Thus we have a level of 5 to 1.

Now study Fig. 2. Let us take the teeth of the stationary gear A as the obstruction of fulcrum as above, and let us assume that the teeth of the movable gear B are where we want the pressure as at E of the safe. Then to exert a pressure of 500 pounds at E only 100 will be needed at C. The gears C might be regarded as a flat crowbar.

It is but a step to change the portion of gears shown in Fig. 3 to full gears, as shown in Fig. 3 (and in Fig. 4, which is a side view). The point C we can convert into a pin and we can have this pin on the flywheel of the engine.

As we will want to release the gears, the same as the slide gears are brought into neutral, there will have to be some means furnished to accomplish this. This can be done by attaching a brake drum to the gear D which is to be held stationary, and having a foot-operated band on this, so that the drum can be held stationary or be released at will.

By observing Fig. 4, you will notice that when the drum K is held stationary by the band L, and the flywheel, and, therefore, engine is revolving, that the gears F and G will roll about D, and so drive the gear E, which is connected to the rear wheels through the propeller shaft, etc. The gears F and G might be regarded as a revolving crowbar. When, however, the band L is freed, then the drum K will be freed, and as there will now be more resistance to the revolving of the gear pin C and so there will be a resulting reverse leverage. Were the crank circle six inches, only six-tenths (6.19) of the pressure of the crank would be exerted on the pin C. Thus the resulting leverage would be but (6.10) six-tenths of five, or 3 to 1.

Now as to the speed ratio. By re-

THE MASTER'S GOLDEN RULES—
As you would that men should do to you, do ye also to them.—Luke 6, 31.

SPIRIT OF JEFFERSON.

The people who think the Democratic party has gone into eclipse as the result of its disastrous defeat last November, should note the celebrations of the birthday of Thomas Jefferson held about the country. They will find that the spirit that has kept this old organization in existence since the foundation of the government, is as keen and alive as ever, and destined yet to be a dominating influence in American life.

It is sometimes said that the type of citizen who used to be called a "Jeffersonian democrat" is dead, and that the party which Jefferson founded has taken up lines of action that its creator would have heartily disapproved of.

But it must be remembered that Jefferson was an innovator, a man who did not fear new things and necessary changes. If he were alive today and meeting the altered conditions of these times, he would be the first to feel the necessity of adjusting himself to the facts of a totally different age.

It is sometimes said of Jefferson, that while he was not a wholly successful administrator, yet he influenced American political developments more than any other one of the fathers of the republic. Others suggested the form of government, but Jefferson breathed into it the breath of life, by his faith in human nature, his trust in the common people, and his demand for the protection of human rights.

These dominating principles of Jefferson's life are what has kept the Democratic party a vital force. They are just as characteristic of that party in these times as they were in Jefferson's days. Conditions change but the Jeffersonian spirit gives the Democratic party the confidence of the mass of the people. It may lose temporarily as the result of transient conditions but it as always rises from defeat.

THE COST OF FASHION.

A recent speaker before a branch of the National Consumers' League says that the cost of woman's clothing is increased 50 per cent by the "feminine passion for fashions." He referred particularly to the increased labor cost necessary to provide garments with the exclusive touch of style. He might also have spoken of the tendency of many women to throw away half worn clothes because they are out of date.

The men folks can't say much, as they spend just as much on personal indulgences as the women do on frivolous dressing.

If father taunts mother with her wasteful purchase of a new spring hat when sheold one looked perfectly good, mother can remind father that she spends nothing for tobacco and very little on club life. Still one can't help feeling that the time will come when women will want the money for other things more than for superfluities of style.

ARRESTED DEVELOPMENT.

Teachers who deal with children of illiterate people remark that these youngsters frequently show up well in the early grades. They seem for a few years to make about as rapid progress as the others. But when they get about 10 or 12 years old, they are apt to fall behind.

In many cases these children are descended from immigrants who were peasants in Europe, with the most meager chances for education. There is nothing in their home surroundings to brighten their minds.

This type of children do not promise to make useful citizens. They will take in civic ideas with difficulty. All the more they need help. They should have the most practical type of education. Training in hand work would help keep them interested, and would arouse their dormant faculties, while gradually the broader ideas of scholarship are communicated to them.

THE BUDGET IDEA.

President Harding's message calls for a budget law, and congress without regard to party should co-operate in this reform. If each department has the power to go direct to congress and demand the appropriations that it thinks it needs, each one is sure to ask very much more than the people ought to be asked to pay. The tendency has proved strong to hand over enough to the departments so they can run along easily without much effort for economy.

If the responsibility for the total amount appropriated is put in the hands of one authority, that authority will be in a position to say to the several departments that they must keep expenses down. This system will cut out superfluous appropriations that would get by with the separate departments clamoring for funds. And there will be more pressure from some responsible agency on the departments to run efficiently. As both political parties accept the principle of the budget, congress and the president should quickly agree on a good measure, and have it enacted at once.

The tremendous enthusiasm for federal highway appropriations was slightly clouded in some districts when they learned that they had got to maintain the roads after they were built.

The school authorities are now hunting up teachers for another year and there is a strong feeling among the young men that they should get some good lookers.

The automobilists seem to think that fences and telephone poles are not properly placed, from the number of the same which they attempt to remove.

The country boys who are going back to the farms from the big cities have concluded that jazz music is not very filling for an empty stomach.

To the editor of the Advocate:

A letter came to me the other day from a young man that his father wanted him to go through college and learn to be a Dr. or something, but on acct. of it taking 10 to 12 yrs. to even be a horse Dr. now days, the young man felt like he didn't want to waste that much time and besides he is a good hearted young man that wishes over body well and if he was a Dr. he would half to change his mind and wish everybody sick.

So he told his Dad that he would rather go into some profession like a newspaper man where you don't half to waste no time in college, can earn money while you are learning, in the old man said he didn't know nothing about the newspaper business or what the salary was and etc. and the kid didn't neither, so he wrote to me to see could I give him some information and the letter says:

Well, reading ads in all the magazines where it says be a cartoonist as it is pleasant work and pays big money and it seems to me they's nothing I would like better than to draw them funny pictures in the comic supplement as I have got a talent for drawing, or at least my mother says I have. So I would be good enough to tell me how much these men earns and if its really pleasant work or no and all about it and advice me if you think I am fitted for the position."

Well, I suppose they's more than 1 young man interested in this question as I met as well as you in the letter what I know about it and maybe save some of them from going into a profession that they are not fitted for and will wished they hadn't.

Well, in the first place, they's very few of the comical artists I know that is bothered with a talent for drawing and you will notice that when they half to have a tree or a horse in their pictures, they draw it and then print the word tree or horse on it so as the reader as well as they themselves won't half to wonder what it is.

In regards to them earning big money, its quite a problem what they earn, but what they get is different and they consider themselves a failure if their annual salary ain't 6 figures or better, but to offset that, what the most of them spends runs up into the dimes. Let us say for example that a comical artist makes $10,000 per month. By the time he has paid for taxes for himself and friends, entertainments, theatre tickets, presents for his wife, etc. he will be lucky if he can salt away $9,990.85.

Not Easy Work.

As for whether or not a man is fitted for this great profession that is not for me to judge when I don't know them personally, but it is well to remember that comical artists is born and not made that way and when they're little boys running around home, the other children generally always gives them some pet name like Silly Joe or Softy.

Is it pleasant work? Well, I suppose they must be a certain satisfaction in making people laugh and a comic artist is always sure of one person laughing at his stuff, both when he draws it and when he sees it in the paper. But if pleasant means easy, the answer is 1000 times, "No." Because no artist can make a entire picture without words, and in the average comical strip there's from 6 to 7 words of over 4 letters which means that many trips to the dictionary, and I know one artist that had a gag with a long word in it once and the dictionary was on a stand way across the room from where the drawing board was located and every day for 2 wks. he forgot it on the trip back to the drawing board till finally he give up trying to remember the whole word at once and brought it back one letter at a time which took 7 trips as the work was garment.

The public has maybe wondered why it is that the word "bam" occurs in the last panel of so many comic strips when one of the characters has been hit in the eye and is falling over backwards. The reason for this is that the character is supposed to be hit so hard that he thinks he has been hit by a bomb, which the cartoonist thinks is how you spell it.

And then of course, they's the question of ideas. I have knew comical artists to fuss and fume for 20 to 25 minutes before they could think up enough ideas for the next 14 days' work. Of course hundreds of ideas come to them, but only a few that can stand the test of questions which the artist puts to himself namely:

- (1) How many things have I sprang this one all ready, and;
- (2) Would I half to use any 2 syllable words?

If the idea has been used more than 5 times in the last 10 days, the artist rejects it which means 10 to 12 seconds for of anguish while he thinks up another one to take its place. By the time the average artist has thought up acceptable ideas for 2 wks. including Sunday, and has drew the pictures and looked up the 4 and 5 letter law breaker words, why the whole morning is gone and the artist is a physical wreck which makes it both kinds.

After one of these sieges, the boys can hardly summon up strength enough to put their hand in their pocket and see if it's all there. Of course when a artist gets popular enough, a great many ideas is sent to him by his admirers, but as a rule he has to throw these away because the party that sent them would get some if their name wasn't put in and how can a artist learn to spell a stranger's name when it is all as he can do to master his own, and some times he can't do that, which is why you see so many comical cartoons signed by shirt nom de plumes like Bud, Al, and W. Lardner.

Another drawback to being a comical artist is the fact that they's so much sickness amongst them a pecdially in the morning. In some way another the strain seems to affect their throat and make it dry and parched and they suffer a good deal from headache and don't want no breakfast. And in addition to these common ailments I know one of them that came down with brain fever and died during the 6 wks. that the doctors was trying to locate the source of the trouble.

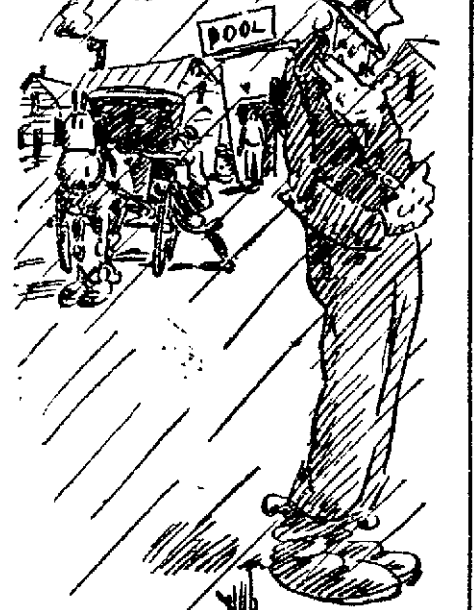

So all in all, the job pays pretty good money but you can't salt away more than 98 per cent of it, it takes up a whole lot of time, it ain't a healthy job, and they don't seem to be no family life. So I wouldn't advice no young man to go into it unless he is peculiarly fitted. Peculiarly is right.

RICH W. LARDNER.

XC.—A New Man.

Nancy was busy stowing away unwanted luggage, and Connie was addressing numerous telegrams to New York announcing her imminent arrival, when a porter tapped on the door of their stateroom.

"The gentlemen says will you all come out in the observation cab?"

Connie groaned.

"My word! Can't we ever have any peace? Do we have to have that odious doctor with us every minute?"

Nancy closed the door on the porter, and turned to stare at Connie in amazement.

"Why, I thought you were keen about the doctor! You certainly were engrossed enough in conversation with him."

"I was trying to find out what his peculiar charm was for you, Nancy, what do you see in him? He isn't good looking and he is abominably conceited."

"Power, old dear!" said Nancy airily. "Women are always crazy about men who do things well, whether it's making money or committing murder. Our sex loves a gangster or a statesman, according to the social stratum in which it moves. The psychic something that makes the maid love the policeman is the same thing that makes the society bud go crazy over a professional dancer or the family chauffeur."

Connie eyed her cynically.

"When you finish this interesting dissertation, I'd like to return to the case in point. Am I to be expected to sit around and listen to that impossible doctor and the everlasting theories all the way to New York?"

"He might appreciate you more if you left him alone with me," suggested Nancy, wickedly.

Connie rose with the air of one who wearily buckles on an armor.

"That I will NOT do!" she declared, and led the way to the observation car.

The doctor was deep in conversation with a stranger when they approached.

He got to his feet immediately and the other man, after a quick glance at the two women, sprang up and took an eager step for ward.

"Mrs. Burrard! This is a pleasure!" he said, grasping her hand.

"Philip Harding, what a surprise!" laughed Nancy.

"My God, another one!" ejaculated the doctor. "How many men do you know, Nancy?"

"Harding (turning from greeting Connie, chuckled appreciatively.

"Mrs. Burrard is one of the most popular young widows I know."

The doctor sent a lightning glance toward Nancy. It asked a question which she answered by laying a finger against her lips and nodding her head slightly.

He moved a bit closer.

"So! Desmond is not the only fool among us?"

"Oh, not nearly. Why, were you feeling lonesome?"
"I have two very strong desires when I am with you," he said deliberately, one is to swear violently, and the other is to break your neck."
Nancy laughed delightedly. It was great fun to get a chance shot at his maddening complacency. She retorted carelessly.
"Isn't one woman's neck enough for one week?" Remember poor Fleurette!"
To her amazement, the doctor blancher noticeably. For a moment his composure was utterly shaken, and in the chance he sent her was that question, definite something which she had seen once before and called—fear.

Enid Bennett has another of those wistful young wife roles which she made popular in "Stepping Out" in her latest Thomas H. Ince picture "Hairpins," coming to the Alhambra theater knowledge is a dangerous thing by jumping into a car at the studios and starting it off. Only the fact that the studio gate was shut saved him probably doing a lot of damage, but the result was a badly dented radiator and the purchase of a bundle of court plaster to patch up Snook's face after he had been precipitated through the windshield.

CHILDREN WILL ENJOY COMEDY IN "THE LITTLE CLOWN"
A comedy drama that will appeal to picture lovers of all ages is "The Little Clown," the latest Mary Miles Minter release, which comes to the Auditorium theater here Monday.

There is love interest in the story, of course, but the picture is happily lacking in any of the "sex stuff" which has brought reproach on many of the most sumptuous motion picture productions of the last year or two.

All children love motion pictures and and forceful writers for the nationally known fiction magazines. Miss Hammerstein is seen in the role of a popular society matron, a charming and noted hostess, who lives only for her society activities. Due to business troubles of her husband she is forced to turn her famous home into a boarding house. To add to her difficulties her husband, through an abortive attempt at suicide, is a helpless invalid, who is confined to his rooms. Hearing who "boarders" enjoying themselves, the husband who is not acquainted with the drastic nature of his business failure, misunderstands, and frequently upbraids his wife. Before the happy ending is reached Margaret Kirby suffers the torture which comes from unfaithful friends and scandalous tongues, but she is game all the way through and her detractors are suitably punished.

Supporting Miss Hammerstein are William Davidson, Warburton Gable, Ellen Cassidy, Helen Lindroth and Tom Brook. The direction of the picture was under William P. S. Earle.

CHARLES RAY PLEASES IN "VILLAGE SLEUTH"
Charles Ray gives another of his refreshing country boy characterizations in "A Village Sleuth," which opened at the Alhambra Thursday.

Mr. Ray has a role of Wm. Wells, a farmer's son, with ambitions to become a famous detective. Failing to impress his father when he attempts to nab the gang which is invading the Wells watermelon patch nightly, William goes forth to seek wider fields. At a private sanitarium, where he secures a job as chore boy, he bumps into a mystery worthy of Sherlock Holmes himself and not only solves it, but wins a pretty girl besides.

MY HONOLULU GIRL, AT THE LYRIC
At the Lyric theater four days starting Sunday, April 24, matinee and two night performances. Here what Lima says about this show.

Right up to the minute, snappy entertainment is being offered this week by the management of the Orpheum theater, where Norman Friedlandwald is presenting "My Honolulu Girl," a musical play with beautiful scenery and electrical effects and a chorus with larger percentage of pulchritude than any I've seen at the Orpheum for weeks.

"My Honolulu Girl" has a real plot that steps along merrily, never dragging for a moment. And throughout the course of the plot delightful little innovations are introduced, making a varied entertainment as could be wished for. The hit of the show, it seems, is the Hawaiian troupe, whose weird and dreamy melodies are beautifully given.

This troupe features Frank Awa, steel guitar artist, whose rendition of Hawaiian solos is remarkable. Accompanied by guitars and the indispensable uke, the quartet furnishes some of the brightest spots of the piece.

Art Tackman, the principal comedian, gets a rather lame start but finishes up as one of the cleverest comedians I have ever seen. His eccentric dancing is one of the hits of the show. Donna Hage, in the prima donna role, has a charming voice and she uses it advantageously. Her "My Mammy" is especially well done.

Bonnie Dee is cast as "My Honolulu Girl," and she had me fooled from the start. I thought she was a real Hawaiian girl but learned later that she is one hundred per cent American. Splendid work, Miss Dee, especially the hula dance.

Harry Shipp, as Mamma's boy lets slip many an opportunity to get a laugh, but on the whole he does good work. And little Geraldine Beyer, with plenty of pep and originality sings and dances adorably.

The comedy of the piece is the kind that will keep you laughing continually, in several instances, a scene borders on the dramatic, but up comes one of the comedians and sets the audience reeling. Of such material is "My Honolulu Girl" composed.

And the chorus? Good looking, graceful every one of them. Unusual, eh? Costuming, too, has been well taken care of. The last scene, with the volcano in the background, while the Hawaiian strains, is something to be remembered.

It seems that "My Honolulu Girl" is pretty hard to criticize. I give up.

HERE'S THE AMBITION OF ONE SCREEN STAR
It may seem strange to many motion picture followers that their idols of the screen have ambitions quite apart from professional fame, and not unlike their own. For example, it is safe to say that 55 persons out of every hundred live in the hope that some day they will be able to have a little home of their own outside the city, raise chickens, grow fruit, own an automobile or two—in short, be their "own bosses" in every particular.

Wm. Russell, the brave Fox star, whose latest picture, "The Cheater Reformed," will be seen at the Alhambra theater beginning next Monday, is an Easterner by birth, but is tremendously enthusiastic about the West. Says the star:

"I'll take the wide open country, the green fields, and the knowledge that I can see the sun rise and set every morning and evening. I shall always be loyal to the West. Some day I hope to have a home surrounded by acres of land away off from the main road. I'll grow fruit and vegetables for my own use, and again to bring me an income. I'll be monarch of all I survey—but won't I be happier than any crowned king? I give you one guess."

"The Cheater Reformed" is said to be a strange, intensely gripping dramatic picture which tells the story of a mammoth fraud and gives the protean role—that of a clergyman and a crook. Beautiful Seena Owen plays opposite Russell.

MARGUERITE CLARK IN "ALL-OF-A-SUDDEN PEGGY"
The Auditorium has popular Marguerite Clark in "All-Of-A-Sudden Peggy" for the two days starting yesterday. The management is making a special matinee concession for all children of Newark and vicinity schools, that is the price from 1:30 until 3 p. m. is placed at one dime—no matter the age. In "All-of-a-Sudden-Peggy," Miss Clark as Peggy O'Mara has a role that is delightful. The story is as follows:

Picture patrons who note the work of minor actors as well as the stars in whose support they appear have not failed to note the uniformly good acting of Lucien Littlefield, who is seen as a crook of a very unpleasant variety in "The Little Clown," the latest release of Jimmy M. Hinton.

Mr. Littlefield has had roles in two other Minter plays of recent months, namely, "Eyes of the Heart," in which he was a dope-taking pickpocket, and "All Souls' Eve," in which he was the lunatic who killed the heroine. Littlefield is a veritable genius at make-up and easily assumes many diverse roles.

This feature is seen in conjunction with "That Something," the Rotary benefit picture at the Auditorium for three days beginning Monday.

WILLIAM RUSSELL ~ ~ Direction William Fox

next Wednesday. Matt Moore is the leading man and Fred Niblo directed the picture, which is a Paramount Artcraft. It is the appealing story of a household drudge who took a lesson from her husband's stenographer and blossomed out as a drawing room favorite. C. Gardner Sullivan wrote the story.

SNOOKY LEARNS AUTO DRIVING AND GETS INTO MORE TROUBLE
Snooky, the Humanzee, has learned to drive an automobile. It was necessary to teach him this in the production of "Ladies Pets" latest of the Chester two reel comedies, which will be seen at Auditorium theater Sunday. In this picture he locks his enemy, the dog catcher, in the dog wagon and drives him to the "pound."

All well enough for the picture, but again Snooky demonstrated that a little parents may well be grateful to Realart for the clean, wholesome stories of which they present Miss Minter.

"The Little Clown" is full, from beginning to end, of delightful comedy situations which will please the most blasé picture patron, yet which are perfectly suitable for a juvenile audience to see.

A real circus, one of the few wagon outfits left in this country, was hired to put on the circus scenes, which are so realistic that probably every daddy in town will make an excuse for seeing this picture, just as daddies habitually take their youngsters to the circus so they can see it themselves.

"The Little Clown" is a new comedy by Avery Hopwood, that versatile playwright of four plays running in New York at once, all during the 1920-21 theatrical season. This comedy of circus life will not be played on the stage until after the film production has been released for many months.

"URGE" FOR ARTISTIC FELT BY ALL CLASSES
The bizarre and exotic atmosphere of Greenwich Village, New York's Bohemian section, has attracted adventurous souls from all walks of life. Every woman who feels an "urge" towards the unusual or the artistic, tries to find her way to Greenwich Village, where she may mingle with kindred spirits and give her individuality to expand. There are many serious thinkers and workers in the "Village," but there are more shams and parasites, and only the very wise can distinguish the wheat from the chaff.

Sylvia was one of those nice girls who was lured to Greenwich Village by a hungry soul; but the struggle was too hard and she soon found herself earning an existence by serving as a waitress in The Black Beetle, one of the unsavory underground cafes of Bohemia. Here she was compelled to protest herself from the advances of Movros, son of the proprietress of the restaurant. In one of these battles for her self respect she swings a chair. The room is plunged in darkness. When the lights are turned on Movros is found dead and Sylvia floes over the roof tops to escape the vengeance of the law.

On this foundation is built "The Dangerous Moment," one of the most engrossing screen stories written in a long time, which has been produced with Carmel Myers in the starring role of Sylvia. It is a Universal production, with the story from the pen of Douglas Doty, the direction credited to Marcel de Sane and announced for appearance at the Alhambra theater next Sunday.

In Miss Myers' support will be seen Herabert Hayes, George Rigas, "Smoke" Turner, Bonnie Hill, Lula Warrenton, Fred Becker and Many others.

A REFINED RUFFIAN SEEN IN "HALF A CHANCE"
In procuring the cast for "Half a Chance," the Robert Thornby special, the first of a series to be made by Jesse D. Hampton for Pathe, extreme care had to be exercised in selecting the exact types in order to make a realistic picture of Frederic S. Isham's widely read novel of that name.

The leading part was entrusted to that sterling actor, Mahlon Hamilton, star of "Earthbound." The role required a player of finesse and powerful physique—a man who could portray both the derelict of the slums and the brilliant and cultured lawyer and member of society.

After a careful inspection of the screen's available leading men, Mahlon Hamilton was selected, in this role he finds the greatest opportunity of his career to give to the silver sheet a never-to-be-forgotten character. "Half a Chance" is a screen production to be seen at the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN IN "POOR DEAR MARGARET KIRBY"
Coming Sunday to the Grand theater for a run of 2 days is the latest Selznick feature picture starring Elaine Hammerstein and entitled "Poor Dear Margaret Kirby."

Kathleen Norris, author of the story, is known as one of the most brilliant and forceful writers for the nationally known fiction magazines. Miss Hammerstein is seen in the role of a popular society matron, a charming and noted hostess, who lives only for her society activities. Due to business troubles of her husband she is forced to turn her famous home into a boarding house. To add to her difficulties her husband, through an abortive attempt at suicide, is a helpless invalid, who is confined to his rooms. Hearing who "boarders" enjoying themselves, the husband who is not acquainted with the drastic nature of his business failure, misunderstands, and frequently upbraids his wife. Before the happy ending is reached Margaret Kirby suffers the torture which comes from unfaithful friends and scandalous tongues, but she is game all the way through and her detractors are suitably punished.

Supporting Miss Hammerstein are William Davidson, Warburton Gable, Ellen Cassidy, Helen Lindroth and Tom Brook. The direction of the picture was under William P. S. Earle.

Mr. Ray has a role of Wm. Wells, a farmer's son, with ambitions to become a famous detective. Failing to impress his father when he attempts to nab the gang which is invading the Wells watermelon patch nightly, William goes forth to seek wider fields. At a private sanitarium, where he secures a job as chore boy, he bumps into a mystery worthy of Sherlock Holmes himself and not only solves it, but wins a pretty girl besides.

All the Ray laugh-provoking qualities are given full play in "A Village Sleuth." Winifred Westover makes a pleasing leading woman. Thomas H. Ince produced the picture for Paramount release and Jerome Storm directed. The story is by Agnes Christine Johnston. This picture is seen today.

At the Lyric theater four days starting Sunday, April 24, matinee and two night performances. Here what Lima says about this show.

Right up to the minute, snappy entertainment is being offered this week by the management of the Orpheum theater, where Norman Friedlandwald is presenting "My Honolulu Girl," a musical play with beautiful scenery and electrical effects and a chorus with larger percentage of pulchritude than any I've seen at the Orpheum for weeks.

"My Honolulu Girl" has a real plot that steps along merrily, never dragging for a moment. And throughout the course of the plot delightful little innovations are introduced, making a varied entertainment as could be wished for. The hit of the show, it seems, is the Hawaiian troupe, whose weird and dreamy melodies are beautifully given.

This troupe features Frank Awa, steel guitar artist, whose rendition of Hawaiian solos is remarkable. Accompanied by guitars and the indispensable uke, the quartet furnishes some of the brightest spots of the piece.

Art Tackman, the principal comedian, gets a rather lame start but finishes up as one of the cleverest comedians I have ever seen. His eccentric dancing is one of the hits of the show. Donna Hage, in the prima donna role, has a charming voice and she uses it advantageously. Her "My Mammy" is especially well done.

Bonnie Dee is cast as "My Honolulu Girl," and she had me fooled from the start. I thought she was a real Hawaiian girl but learned later that she is one hundred per cent American. Splendid work, Miss Dee, especially the hula dance.

Harry Shipp, as Mamma's boy lets slip many an opportunity to get a laugh, but on the whole he does good work. And little Geraldine Beyer, with plenty of pep and originality sings and dances adorably.

The comedy of the piece is the kind that will keep you laughing continually, in several instances, a scene borders on the dramatic, but up comes one of the comedians and sets the audience reeling. Of such material is "My Honolulu Girl" composed.

And the chorus? Good looking, graceful every one of them. Unusual, eh? Costuming, too, has been well taken care of. The last scene, with the volcano in the background, while the Hawaiian strains, is something to be remembered.

It seems that "My Honolulu Girl" is pretty hard to criticize. I give up.

HERE'S THE AMBITION OF ONE SCREEN STAR
It may seem strange to many motion picture followers that their idols of the screen have ambitions quite apart from professional fame, and not unlike their own. For example, it is safe to say that 55 persons out of every hundred live in the hope that some day they will be able to have a little home of their own outside the city, raise chickens, grow fruit, own an automobile or two—in short, be their "own bosses" in every particular.

Wm. Russell, the brave Fox star, whose latest picture, "The Cheater Reformed," will be seen at the Alhambra theater beginning next Monday, is an Easterner by birth, but is tremendously enthusiastic about the West. Says the star:

"I'll take the wide open country, the green fields, and the knowledge that I can see the sun rise and set every morning and evening. I shall always be loyal to the West. Some day I hope to have a home surrounded by acres of land away off from the main road. I'll grow fruit and vegetables for my own use, and again to bring me an income. I'll be monarch of all I survey—but won't I be happier than any crowned king? I give you one guess."

"The Cheater Reformed" is said to be a strange, intensely gripping dramatic picture which tells the story of a mammoth fraud and gives the protean role—that of a clergyman and a crook. Beautiful Seena Owen plays opposite Russell.

MARGUERITE CLARK IN "ALL-OF-A-SUDDEN PEGGY"
The Auditorium has popular Marguerite Clark in "All-Of-A-Sudden Peggy" for the two days starting yesterday. The management is making a special matinee concession for all children of Newark and vicinity schools, that is the price from 1:30 until 3 p. m. is placed at one dime—no matter the age. In "All-of-a-Sudden-Peggy," Miss Clark as Peggy O'Mara has a role that is delightful. The story is as follows:

Picture patrons who note the work of minor actors as well as the stars in whose support they appear have not failed to note the uniformly good acting of Lucien Littlefield, who is seen as a crook of a very unpleasant variety in "The Little Clown," the latest release of Jimmy M. Hinton.

Mr. Littlefield has had roles in two other Minter plays of recent months, namely, "Eyes of the Heart," in which he was a dope-taking pickpocket, and "All Souls' Eve," in which he was the lunatic who killed the heroine. Littlefield is a veritable genius at make-up and easily assumes many diverse roles.

This feature is seen in conjunction with "That Something," the Rotary benefit picture at the Auditorium for three days beginning Monday.

Jimmy, seriously considering a busness offer to go to Ceylon, has preceded her there. She invades his apartment upon her arrival in the city. He is absent the whole evening, returning the following morning to find her asleep in his chair. Learning the circumstances, he begs her to marry him in reality, but she is afraid he is merely doing it to save her name. To complicate matters, the news of their supposed elopement has reached the newspapers.

Jimmy is given a good opportunity for a job in London, but he wants to go to Ceylon, leaving the impression that he and Peggy are married, in order to preserve her reputation. Peggy is thus torn between conflicting emotions, but finally yields and she and Jimmy are wedded. In the meantime, Anthony and the Widow O'Hara have already plighted their troth. So Peggy is the wife of her stepfather's brother, but supremely happy.

VERSATILE ACTOR IS LUCIEN LITTLEFIELD
Picture patrons who note the work of minor actors as well as the stars in whose support they appear have not failed to note the uniformly good acting of Lucien Littlefield, who is seen as a crook of a very unpleasant variety in "The Little Clown," the latest release of Jimmy M. Hinton.

Request $23,000,000 from American People to Support European Children's Fund

Three's company in Warsaw these days when you can go with your best pals to the kitchen of the American Relief Administration European Children's Fund and get there a bowl of steaming hot soup, noodle soup, a delicacy compared to the black bread made of weeds and bark and seeds that you starve on at home. For a million boys and girls in Poland the day is just one hungry hour after another, broken happily by a visit to the child-feeding stations of the Americans. They would starve without it, and they will starve without popular contribution from America at large to the European Children's Fund.
Herbert Hoover is chairman of the Fund which is a branch of the American Relief Administration work in Eastern and Central Europe. The Fund keeps three thousand kitchens working at capacity to give one meal a day to a million Polish children and a million and a half more in the Baltic States, Czechoslovakia and Austria. The kitchens will have to close just as the worst part of the winter opens unless America gives from her bounty to keep them going. Resources now available will carry the work only until the first of January. To take the children through the summer when the native crops come in, Mr. Hoover calls for $23,000,000 from the men and women of America.

MISS NIELSON GIVES FAMOUS LINCOLN PLAY

The appearance tonight of Miss Hor-tense Nielson on the platform of Taylor Hall of the Y. M. C. A. breaks the long interval of professional talent from that stage.
Miss Nielson has been acknowledged by the press and public as being unequalled in the portrayal of great masterpieces. She has appeared in: Macbeth, Hamlet, As You Like It, Romeo and Juliet, by Shakespeare. Electra by Sophocles, Trojan Woman by Euripides, Magda by Suderman, Monna Vanna by Maeterlinck, A Doll's House by Ibsen, as well as Ghosts, and has scored repeated success in Drinkwater's now famous "Abraham Lincoln."
The great fundamental essential of an impersonation is voice and personality. This is what has made Hor-tense Nielson such a profound success.
The performance will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Seats are not reserved. Tickets may be secured at Edmiston's Book Store, Leist and Kingery, or at the office of the Y. M. C. A.

BROTHERHOOD DEBATES IMMIGRATION QUESTION

One hundred men attended the Brotherhood meeting of the First Baptist church at the church last night.
E. H. Framo presided at the meeting and the tables were attractively arranged with candles. National colors were used in the decorations. The brotherhood male choir under the direction of Prof. Klopp sang and Rev. C. W. Benjamin gave the opening prayer. Rev. F. L. Fraser sang a solo and the Azoga Class under the direction of Harry Cross entertained with yells led by "Ted" Keller.
Willbur Brokers acted as messenger for the mystical telegrams.
The feature to the evening was the debate on "Resolved that immigration into the United States be limited to 3 per cent of that nationality here in 1910." D. B. Grubb and Douglas Has-kell talked for the affirmative and A. X. Todd and C. W. Swygant for the negative. The judges, J. W. Ditter of the First M. E. Church, Hugh Ellis of Plymouth Congregational church, Jesse T. Reese of Central Church of Christ, H. H. McArthur of the First Presbyterian church and Charles C. Duerr of St. Paul's Lutheran church, decided in favor of the affirmative four to one.
A buffet luncheon followed the debate.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

The marriage of Miss Eva Irene Johnson and Mr. Joseph B. Homer was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. I. G. McCormack at his home in Fifth street. The ring ceremony was held. They were attended by Mrs. William Paulsen, sister of the bride and Mr. Paulsen. They will be at home after a short wedding trip at 63 Chestnut street, this city.

On Saturday afternoon from three to five o'clock Mrs. Otto Hett entertained at her home in North Sixteenth street with a children's party in honor of the eighth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mary Marguerite. Mrs. Hett was assisted in entertaining by Misses Joel Jones and Neva Baumgarten. The afternoon was spent with games and music and refreshments were served the following: Betty Christman, Marcelle Stover, Virginia and Phyllis Blais, Burdette Laidy and Miss Henry, Avanelle Frush, Elizabeth Henry, Nelson and Melvin Golf Arabelle and Marguerite Hett.

The members of the Quest club were entertained by Mrs. W. L. Jackson at her home in Bolton avenue Thursday. The next meeting of the club will be held May 5 at the home of Mrs. P. J. Farrell in Hudson avenue.

A small but appreciative audience was present at the Piano Recital Thursday evening given by Miss Ethel Jackson, student of Madam and Miss Henry of Denison University in the East Main street M. E. church, of which Miss Jackson is organist.

The Macdonald "Tone Poems" were very beautifully given in a most artistic manner. Special mention should be made of the exquisite execution of "To a Water Lily" and "Scotch Poem." The "Russian Dance" Op. 10, No. 4, by Fritsch was rendered so well that a pianist of much ability could have rendered it. Two much can not be said of her artistic touch and power of expression. Every number was given in a most capable and artistic manner. The program follows:

Hollander.....March Op. 39, No. 1
McDowell.....Seven Tone Poems
(a) The Eagle (Op. 32)
(b) Scotch Poem (Op. 31)

The Junior Party Friday evening at the Newark High School was attended by 110 students and all had an enjoyable evening.

The time was spent in dancing games and contests and Bert Wilson won the prize in the lawn contest.

Refreshments were served at a late hour and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The Junior class expressed their thanks to Miss Larson, Miss Montgomery, Miss McDonald and Mr. Manning who made the party one of the most successful held at the school this year.

Mrs. Samuel D. Brooks entertained the members of the Cotone club at her home in Buckingham street on the club day and an interesting program was arranged. Roll call was responded to with a governor's name and Mrs. I. F. Fritsch gave a talk on "Historical Sites in Ohio." "Ohio Institutions for Detention, Dependents and Delinquents" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Johnston.

Mrs. A. N. Dodd discussed the "Historical Islands of Lake Erie." Mrs. Brooks' guests for the afternoon were Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. M. W. Squires, Mrs. Frank Mahard and daughter Virginia, Mrs. T. B. Coulter and Miss Helen Bradley.

The second dancing party of the season was given by the Fleur de Lis club at the Mt. Zion Temple Friday evening. Forty couples enjoyed a delightful few hours from 9 to 1 o'clock and music was furnished by the Quality Syncopated orchestra.

WITH THE OHIO CLUB WOMEN

By MRS. GEO. ELLIOTT MCORMICK

Superlative Efficiency.

"Superlative efficiency" was the dominating note in every department of the program at the Middle East district conference at New Philadelphia April 12-13. The event is sure to be always a pleasant memory to those attending owing to the wealth of program material, gracious hospitality of New Philadelphia club women and the added charm of Tuscarawas county valleys and hills. A conspicuous figure in the convention was Mrs. Nellie Stockwell, eighty years old, president of one of the federated clubs of New Philadelphia.

Mrs. John M. Henderson, Martins Ferry, presided at the sessions. Mrs. G. W. Hixon, Cambridge, vice president of the district, was unable to attend on account of the serious illness of her husband. Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the Ohio Federation, in her annual district message, incidentally announced the resignation of Miss Alice A. Tyler, Cleveland, head of the library extension committee. She is president of the American Library association and librarian of Western Reserve university and found the combined duties of all too heavy for her. Miss Alice Boardman, assistant librarian of the Ohio state library, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Club women desiring material can receive it by communicating with Miss Boardman, state library, Columbus.

The music of the convention was a special feature that excited much favorable comment. Community singing and a musical marked the program. However, the program builders had so mixed the many good things that one stood out more boldly than the others save perhaps the work of the various district clubs. Helpful ideas were brought to the convention floor by representatives from every department of the state federation.

A fine banquet was given by the New Philadelphia club women in honor of Mrs. Sharp and guests. Dennison and Chicksville, Ohio, and Barnesville, asked for next year's meeting. The place of meeting is to be determined later.

ODD WAY TO MARK NEW-BORN BABES

Nurse from the Bronx Maternity hospital holding a new-born babe with the necklace identification.

There is no fear of mixing up this little baby with some one else for in the hospital where he was born a necklace with his name spelled out on each bead is his first adornment. It is impossible to remove the necklace as the end of the strings are sealed together with a compressed seal so that the string must be cut to remove it. Also you can tell at a glance whether it is a boy or a girl, for the boy has blue beads and the girl pink.

PROVE VALUE OF TESTING SEED CORN

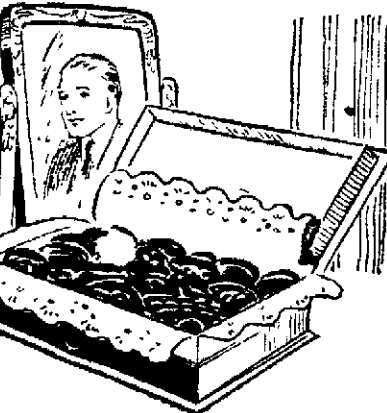

Canners who are vitally interested in the germinality and freedom from disease of seed sweet corn have made extensive use of the modified rag-doll germinator test developed by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Indiana Agricultural Experiment Station. One canning plant in Michigan installed a germinator which permitted the testing of 7,000 ears per week, and kept it in operation all winter. This enterprise is an example of effective co-operation on the part of the canners with their farmer growers. The testing when done on this large scale by the canners is much more uniform than if done by the individual farmers. The increased vigor and yield of the corn crop give better profits to growers and canners.
